Strange beings sometimes emerge from the cranberry hogs of New-Jersey.

But Flynn's friends say that Taral was in fault for the bad start which Ross O. got; that he pulled up Ross O. just as the flag fell, and that he had no excuse for pulling up Ross O. Taral declares that the bad start for Ross O. was not his fault. At Brighton Beach poor Tod Sloane was set down for several days because he was not quick enough with his mount when the pulssant, and eminent, and exalted Flynn dropped this flag. At Sheepshead Bay poor Sloane was set down for five days because he was too quick with his mounts to suit the saintly, and sanettfied, and consecrated, and blameless, and flawless Flynn. Taral has not yet been set down, but after the stewards have had Sunday to think it over, perhaps Taral will be set down for five days or more.

Martin did not ride the odds-on favorite Box in the second race with tremendous force and energy. But the excuse is made for Martin that his health is impaired at present and that he is not strong enough now to show his finest form in the suddle. It is reported that Griffin has weakened himself by spending too much time in the vicinity of Manhattan Beach, and not getting sleep enough. Turf gossip is affont to the effect that Griffin spends too many hours in the surf, and is so fond of social recreation that he encroaches too much on the time which he should devote to rest after his arduous toll in the saddle. Possibly Martin may have become weak from the strain of carrying around his enormous diamonds. Muscalonge, from the Western stable of F. M. Arthur ourstayed Captive, from the Western stable of P. It is a pity that sometimes he does not seem to be in the humor. Doggett is not in much danger of getting himself set down for being too gulck for the starter and wilning four races out of seven in one day. However, it is propable that Captive could have beaten Muscalonge, if Captive had been ridden by a jockey Rodermond and Challenger ran in the Partridge Stakes, at six furiongs, on the turf, as if they had been soured by their recent races. Both were well backed and well ridden. But George Rose, the Western coit, who has won several faces in the West, had an advantage in the weights over Rodermond and Challenger, and J. Hill rode him with persistence and force. Second place was taken by the Keene filly Princess Flavia, who came with a swift rush. The Keenes have a remarkable number of fast two-year-olds.

Michael F. Dwyer's Harry Reed, the favorite in the selling race at seven furlongs, won in a romp.

The steeplechase was a painful and doleful affair on account of the number of falls.

RACING SCENES AND INCIDENTS. NOTES AND OBSERVATIONS OF A VETERAN TURF

Rowe was confident that Requital would win Twin City Handicap, although the track was deep in mud. The impressive manner in which Requital popularity. No official handicapter and no caused everybody who had the slightest doubt about Requital's superlatively high class to conficial can draw a racetrack salary long cede that he was truly a champion of champions Requital defeated his field so easily yesterday that few of the spectators were aware of the worry, annoyance and trouble which Rowe has gone through since last March, when Requital fell a victim to the epidemic of disease that ravaged the racsleepless nights, and gave his most careful atten tion to Requital, until the colt had apparently re-covered. A slight relapse at West Chester that threatened to retire Requital for the remainder of the season gave Mr. Rowe another month of care and toil to restore the colt's health. It required intelligence, skill and patience to train Requital for the Realization Stakes, but Rowe succeeded so well that he told his friends and acquaintances that he believed that Requital would gallop home a winner in the great three-year-old stake. Regultal did gallop home the winner of the Realization, and made a new record for that race.

Mr. Rowe made this remark yesterday: "I believe Requital capable of staying any distance that horses are asked to run in these days of short-distance racing."

Louis G. Thompson and William H. Thompson, the owners of Requital, are popular young turfmen, and the Brookdale colors are respected by all lasses of racegoers. Hence Requital's victory was hailed with joyous acclaim by the spectators who witnessed the Twin City Handicap yesterday.

Walter S. Hobart's Absentee won first race, with generous odds quoted against him. Mr. Hobart's orses are raced to win at all times. H. H. Hunn, who trains for Mr. Hobart, endeavors to secure the best jockeys, and both winners and losers admire turfmen who always try to give the public the best possible chance, by taking every precaution to se-cure an honest ride on horses that are "meant"

This coit, Box, was shipped East for the express purpose of winning the Futurity. Nevertheless, he was unplaced in the Futurity. Captive, at 10 to 7 on, took the bettors in and bound them in the captive of distinction of the opponents of odds-on favorites, who are fishermen for tempting prizes, caught Muscanlonge at 2 to 1. The race was a good one. Captive led until the stretch was reached, when Muscalonge made a bid for the honors, and under a furious drive managed to beat Captive by a half length Volley, who, it was sald, could not run in the mud at Aqueduct, was heavily backed to win in the brand of mud from Frank Clarks mud factory at Sheepshead, but he floundered home a poor third.

George Rose, the favorite, at 8 to 5, was an added starter in the Partridge Stakes, at six furiongs on the turf. He won the race by a scant length from James R. K-sene's Princess Flavia, who was at 10 to 1 in the betting.

Rodermond and Challenger were well supported at 2 to 1 against each of them. Rodermond led for a half mile, when he quit, and George Reese passed him, and Princess Flavia moved up into second position, where she remained to the finish. Challenger works we'l in his trials, but he runs like a gain deceiver in his races. Some of the trainers who bet on him now classify him as a sulker.

Harry Reed, an even-money favorite, won the start race, a selling affair at seven furlongs. Pearl Son very time they appear at the post. Distinction was graduated from the maiden class

Keene, are on exhibition. It is seldom that horsemen have an opportunity of inspecting so fine an average lot of youngsters by leading sires of England and America. The Castleton yearlings are to be sold to-morrow, and an excellent opportunity is presented to intending purchasers of obtaining the best blood lines at home and abroad, as well as colts and filles from some of the choicest racing families in the Stud Book. It would be invidious to make mention of a few of the Keene youngsters, as the entire lot is of such a high order of excellence that a serious mistake might result from making selections. A visit to the paddock will amply repay any lover of high-class thoroughbreds for his time.

NEEL FALLS BEFORE WRENN. THE BEST TENNIS SEEN AT NEWPORT FOR SEV ERAL YEARS.

Newport, R. L. Aug. 22 (Special).-Wrenn and Larned are the men who will battle for the allcomers' tennis championship of America. Another turn of the wheel to-day dropped Neel and Fischer ut of the race and brought to the top Wrenn and the water. On Monday Wrenn and Larned will meet to decide which shall have the honor of challenging Champion Hovey in the blue-ribbon contest of Amer-

This morning Wrenn was pitted against Neel, the crack Western player, in the semi-final round, and defeated him in a match that was incomparably the the Newport courts since Larned went down before the famous Irish player, Goodbody, several years ago. The contest opened promptly at 11 o'clock, and for and forth between the two cracks. Big black clouds hung over the court, threatening rain every minute, but it seemed to make no difference to the crowd. ch was larger than on any previous day.

The soft court into which Neel's strokes dropped with little rebound made his peculiar cross-court style of play effective, while with no sun to bother him he was able to smash Wrenn's lobs with great skill and judgment. Wrenn set the ball rolling with the service, and it was soon apparent that he was had evidently made up his mind to lob everything into the air, as it was on this style of play that h from Neel two weeks ago at Norwood Park. But he very soon found that Neel of two weeks ago and Neel of to-day were entirely different men. Wrenn's lobbing was a little short and weak, and Neel hammered the ball back with capital skill. Eight short games were all that were necessary to decide the set in Neel's favor at 6-2.

The second set saw Wrenn more cautious in his overhead tactics. He varied the sky-scraping lobs with some pretty driving across Neel's forehand. and passed the latter continually at the net. The score climbed to 5 all, and then began a fight for the wo vantage games, in which the doughty little Harvard man displayed some of the grit which has made vard man displayed some of the grit which has made him so famous on the football field. Time after time Neel was within a few strokes of victory only to be forced back by his plucky antagonist. The games see-sawed back and forth amid intense excitement, for on that set apparently lay Wrenn's only hope of final victory. At last, when the score had reached 12 all, Wrenn pulled himself together, and in a bril-ilant spurt ran out the set. His success was greeted with tremendous applause.

int spurt ran out the set. This case was the tremendous applause. The effort, however, had told on him severely, and the third set he slowly gave way before Neel's ever volleying, losing at 6-4. Wrenn was appartly sinking fast. Although the sun occasionally oke through the clouds and enabled him to orry Neel by lobbing, the latter was steadily forgbroke this by lobbing, the latter was steadily forging to the front.

In the fourth set, Neel secured a lead of 4-2, and was nearing the winning post when Wrenn, for the second time during the match, displayed his phenomenal rallying power. With increased speed and accuracy he gradually closed up the gap, and then forced his way out ahead, tying the sets at 2 all. That was the beginning of the end for Neel. The deciding set proved a runaway for Wrenn, who, in spite of the fifty-four games that had been played, appeared the fresher of the two. Five straight games were chalked up to him amid tremendous enthusiasm, and although Neel stopped the boit for a single game, it was a Wrenn day, and the exchampion was not long in nailing the set and match at 6-1.

NAVAL CADETS CRUISE ENDED. Washington, Aug. 22.-The practice cruise of the Annapolis naval cadets, most of it passed in Eu-ropean waters, which began about the middle of June, has ended. The Monongabela, with the boys on board, arrived at Lynn Haven Bay to-day. The two classes will return to the Naval Academy about the end of this month. The boys will then have a short leave of absence before beginning their fell studies.

A MAN CLAWED BY A LIONESS. Alliance, Ohio, Aug. 22.-Frank Swope, a canvas

THE REVOLT IN VIRGINIA.

LEADING DEMOCRATS REFUSE TO SUPPORT THE REPUDIATION POLICY.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

Washington, Aug. 22.-Basil B. Gordon succeeded John S. Barbour as chairman of the Virginia Democratic Committee, and led the party in the campaign which resulted in the election of P. W. McKinney as Governor over General William Not only as State chairman, but as leader in the State Senate and as the most liberal ever had, Mr. Gordon demonstrated his fealty to the Democratic party. In a letter published in 'The Baltimore Sun" Mr. Gordon repudiates the Chicago platform and nominees, and announce resents the money standard of every fully civilized nation in the world as against a dwindling hamiful of Mongolian and mongrel nations who still cling to the cheaper metal." Mr. Gordon says Mr. Bryan's speech in New-York "was free from faise rhetoric and dignified in tone, but when it reached the critical point he had nothing better to offer than mere assumption." Concluding,

Gordon says: When an untried experiment is submitted to me offering doubtful advantages in case of success and ad nitted loss and dishoner in case of failure, I cannot long hesitate as to how my vote shall be cise a powerful influence in Virginia.

One of the most striking evidences of the wide spread revoit in the Democratic party against the Chicago platform and nominees comes from Lynchburg, Va., where 200 Democrats of high standing and representing the professions and the financial commercial and manufacturing interests of the city have united in calling a meeting, which is to send delegates to the sound-money State convention, which meets in Richmond, August 27, and which will, in turn, elect delegates to the National Democratic Convention, to be held in Indianapolis Lynchburg is the home of United States Senato John W Daniel, and many of the signers of the sound-money call are intimate personal friends of the Senator, and have been material factors in his political advancement. Lynchburg is also the home of Congressman Peter J. Otey, who is a political mustler' and the most active promoter and organizer of the free-silver movement in Virginia. Senator Daniel and Congressman Otey practically dictated the action of the Virginia Democrate Convention held in Staunton in June last. Further, "The Daily News," published in Lynchburg, is the ablest and most aggressive free-silver paper published in Virginia.

"If," asks "The Baltimore Sun," "with all this influence, Lynchburg revolts against the 50-cent dollar, what may be expected in the other sections of the Old Commonwealth, where this personal influence is certainly less pronounced? With all of his eloquence and popularity it will be impossible for the silver-tongued Senator to make the ranks of the Virginia Democracy 'touch elbows' during the campaign, with free silver as his slogan." Daniel, and many of the signers of th that nearly all the Democrats of influence in the State will repudiate the Chicago outfit before the Gound-Money Convention meets. The letter says:

Cockran has taken the popular road. Hill has

STRENGTH OF THE ILLINOIS BOLTERS Chicago, Aug. 22.-Reports received at Illinois gold Democratic headquarters from the countles of State indicate, according to a statement made by Secretary Spangler, that 90 countles of the 102 are sure of being represented at the State convention here next Tuesday, and conventions in other counties have been called to choose delegates. Mr. Spanglet estimates the number of delegates who will be in the onvention at 1,000. Ex-Congressman Forman cam not be a candidate for Governor, but he may be not be a candidate for Governor, but he may be nominated for Attorney-General. The most prominent person mentioned for Governor is General John C. Black, United States District-Attorney here. A deputation will wait on him at his summer home to ask his acceptance, which will be tantamount to a nomination, it is believed. Ex-National Committeeman Cable telegraphed that he would head the Rock Island County delegation, thus disproving the reports that he had backed out of the movement.

CLASH OVER PRIMARIES IN NEW-HAVEN. New-Haven, Conn., Aug. 22.-A call for Demoeratic primaries was issued by the silver Town Committee to-day. It is signed by James B. Martin, and all the old members of that committee except Hutt, of the Eighth Ward. It is stated by the gold men that this call is issued without authority. thority to call town primaries comes from the State Central Committee, and none has been given yet. The silver Town Committee did not even receive authority from the Provisional State Committee, as authority from the Provisional State Committee, as they style it, that was partly appointed by the silver conference held in New-Haven on Thursday. The only primaries that the gold Democrats will recognize will be those to be called by Chairman William J. Mills, who is still at the head of the regular Town Committee, and who will receive his authority from the Democratic State Central Committee.

MR. BRYAN'S WASHINGTON VISIT. Washington, Aug. 22 - John Boyle, chairman of the local Committee on Invitation having in charge the ratification meeting to be held in this city, received a letter from Mr. Bryan this morning, in which, among other things, he says: "I will stop in Washington on my way from the South to New-England, I cannot fix the date, but I hope it will not be long after September 20. I will let you know as soon as the date is fixed positively. TO PRESENT THE PRESIDENT'S VIEWS.

Washington, Aug. 22.-Assistant Secretary Hamlin, of the Treasury Department, started this afternoon for Marion Mass. He will be the principal speaker at the convention on Tuesday next of the gold Democrats in Massachusetts. Mr. Hamlin last week had an extended conference with President Cleveland at Buzzard's Bay, and, as he has carefully prepared his address, it is believed it will indirectly reflect the view of the President on the third-party move-AGAINST SEWALL IN HIS OWN STATE. Bangor, Me., Aug. 22.—The gold Democracy of this city met at the City Hall last evening and organized for the campaign against Bryan and Sewall, under the name of the Hones; Money Democratic Club of Bangor. Ex-Mayor Charles L. Snow, a delegate to the Chicago Convention, was chosen president, and other prominent Democrats were made officers.

CIRCULATION OF MR. COCKRAN'S SPEECH. One of the first moves to be made by the Demoeratic Honest Money League of America in its campaign against Bryan and free silver is the circulaa broadcast of W. Bourke Cockran's reply to the "Boy Orator's" sophistries. The speech by Mr. Cockran is being printed in pamphlet form, and sev eral million copies will be distributed. Mayor Byrne and others were engaged at the headquarters, in No. 15 West Twenty-fourth-st., yesterday in preparing an address on behalf of sound money, which will be circulated throughout the United States.

CAPTAIN MARTENS STOPS THE FIGHTS. Captain Martens, of the East Thirty-fifth-st. police station, with half a dozen men under his command. last night appeared at the Murray Hill Athletic Club, No. 535 Third-ave., and stopped the fights arranged by the club because they could not produce a theatrical licence. Tickets of admission were being sold at the door and Captain Martens also discovered that there were two men selling pools on the result of the three contests which were to be presented. When Captain Martens found that the club had no theatrical license and were charging admission, he cleared the clubrooms, but made no arrests.

CLEMENCY FOR TOLEDO BRIBE-TAKERS. Toledo, Ohio, Aug. 22.-Governor Bushnell to-day issued certificates of restoration to citizenship to B. G. Manchester, John Daly, George W. Doner, F. C. Tanner, W. J. Gill and Charles Neuendorf, members of the Toledo Board of Councilmen in 1892, who were convicted of accepting bribes for the passage of certain legislation. A determined effort was made during Governor McKinley's régime to secure clemency for them, but oppo-sition from many citizens here prevented Major McKinley from taking the desired action.

ESULT OF A CANVASS IN HIS HOME WARD AND AMONG THE TENANTS OF THE BUILDING

Sir: We received to-day the inclosed letter from Sir. W. McDowell, of Omaha, Neb., on the political situation. If you consider it worthy of publication you are at liberty to use it. Mr. McDowell is well qualified to speak on the subject, and we believe his letter will interest you.

New-York, Aug. 21, 1896. J. F. COLE & CO.

Dear Sirs: Your favor of the 14th inst, at hand, nd I am glad to note the impression Bryan made upon Gotham with his recent essay on silver. In asmuch as the press dispatches indicate In conversation recently with a party from Lin coin—Bryan's home—in whose judgment I have confidence, he made this statement: "Bryan will be turned down in November, in the office building in which his office is located, and in his ward, his city and State." The assertion with reference to the office building and ward was based upon a poli that has been taken, and the business of the party referred to enabled him to gather reliable reports throughout the State.

The Republican headquarters here has made a house-to-house canvass of this city, and I will send up. Yours truly, J. V. M'DOWELL. Omaha, Neb., Aug. 18, 1896.

It seemed to me that this instance of loyalty to principle should not go unrecorded, and the readers of The Tribune may be interested to know that in these remote villages the deceptive unterances of the Boy Orator have taken little root, and that they may echo Longfellow with.

THE CURRENCY AND THE TARIFF. To the Editor of The Tribune.

Sir: The reply in vesterday's Tribune to the in-quiries of G. W. Hoss, of Wichita, Kan., on the cur-rency question is one of the most lucid statements of that intricate subject I have yet seen. The article contains the concise, practical kind of information so much needed for the average voter to form a decisive judgment upon the free-coinage proposition. Most speeches are too elaborate and many press articles too partisan or dealing too much with the intricacles of detail to be convincing to the general reader. There are sufficient data from facts and the experience of other countries without complicating the subject with theories and collateral conditions. The currency tariff be on a little higher or lower scale of duties is a matter of insignificance in comparison. The numher that favor a free-trade policy are comparatively few; those who want a prohibitory tariff comprise but a small proportion of the mass of the people. Al-most every one favors sufficient farist to meet Government requirements, yet the proposition to debase the currency, destroy credits and revolutionize the whole financial interests of the country affects directly all classes and must be of far-reaching consequences.

These facts will become more and more apparent as the date of election approaches, and the clearer the issue is made on the one important question the more decided will be the result. If Mr. McKinley and his friends leave the subject to oscillate between the currency and the tariff the very large contingent all over the country that is decidedly averse to another "Mc-Kinley tariff" and who favor sound money will be left in the unsatisfactory alternate position of (a) favoring McKinley as opposed to their convictions on the tariff, or (b) favoring a third ticket, thus, as I believe, assisting Bryan, or (c) of "going fishing" on Election Day, likewiss negatively helping the Populist cause.

To unite all patriotic citizens of all parties on the To unite all patriotic citizens of all parties on the one great issue before the country would seem the duty as well as the opportunity of the hour; and to the average layman there would seem no way to accomplish this result so direct and effectual as to simplify the main question and put aside or subordinate to it all complicating secondary issues.

FREDERICK W. KELSEY.

MR. COCKRAN'S SPEECH APPROVED. To the Editor of The Tribun

Sir: My opinion is that Mr. Cockran's argument on labor was the best I ever heard, and cannot be objected to by anybody. That on the Supreme Court was just as good as it could be. It was a perfect answer to Mr. Bryan, and showed that he perfect answer to Mr. Bryan.
understood it legally. It was also a logical presentation of the subject. As to his silver argument, he demonstrated that he thoroughly understood the subject of the free colnage of silver, and his speech in this regard will be a campaign document, valuable to the Republican party, to be printed and able to the Republican party, to be printed and circulated throughout the country, and especially in the South and West. Mr. Cockran's criticisms on Mr. Bryan himself were so respectful, yet so severe, that even Mr. Bryan could hardly take exception to them. I believe that the farmer and workingman should be able thoroughly to understand now that his labor is his value, and that money merely marks its amount. I think the effect of the meeting will be splendid.
